【Skills, Personal Qualities】

Technique : Ability for 1vs1
Intelligence : Off the Ball Movements, Cover Run, Overlap

As a field player, it is possible to play in any position as the tactics of the team.
That's why I was able to play over 150 games at the top league in Japan by contributing to the team with various efforts.
As for unique feature of play, I am particularly good at cover running and communicating.

Besides that, I am not worried about adaptation within the team by communicating in Japanese and English.

In my past career, I have the experience of playing in the Japan Women's National Team by age group.
Therefore, I believe that joining the team not only improves the team strength but also gives the way to lead to win.
